

NICCIE KLIEGL

FULFILL YOUR LEGACY

---

I'm an author, coach, and speaker. I'm also the founder of Fulfill Your Legacy, where I help individuals and organizations define their purpose, tap into their driving force and clarify the path and steps required to achieve their goals. With over twenty years of experience I lead them to a place where they are empowered by the work they do, the health they are in, and the relationships they have.

A person's driving force, when set within the foundation of God's strength, direction, and insight surpasses anything they can dream of.

Imagine finding your individual purpose in life and learning how to run with it, having applicable steps for gaining health and wellness that sustains and nurtures continued strength, growth, and prosperity, and how to tap into peace, joy, love, and blessings that will carry you throughout your days.

The Living Legacy training is a powerful experience leading many to their true potential and life fulfillment! Individuals and groups from all around the world have been through the powerful transformation of Fulfill Your Legacy coaching and the processes highlighted in Awaking the Living Legacy.

I will use the Legacy's 4-Step approach for teaching:

Consider the problem: Topics will be selected from submitted requests ranging from health and wellness, faith and relationships, to goal setting and leadership.

Consider the word: Infusing Faith back into our way of life, living out the Legacy we have been left behind, and leaving in our path a Legacy of excellence is a process that works. We will use the 'Word' to direct and lead us.

Consider the gift: Great resources take individuals from good to excellent. We have each been gifted with our unique talents, and when pooling together a group of individuals and their mastered gifts and talent we have a gold mine God-given of insight and opportunities at our fingertips.

Consider the choice: Everything comes down to choice. Whether we act or sit back, they are both choices. Having a sounding board of like-minded individuals who have your best interest at heart will support you on your Living Legacy.

'Legacy' is a word of the past, but 'to fulfill' are words of the future... I want you to dream about the life you wish you were living and believe that you can have it. There is so much out there for us all. God wants us to have it and share it....and that is my passion!